

Statistics for the SDGs - indicators for national priorities

Priority  More complete fulfillment of the principle of women and men's equality  The indicator presents the share of women in the total number of persons employed in managerial positions.  Employed persons are defined as the persons who have worked in the surveyed units for the whole October of the given year, full- or part-time as established for the given enterprise or position.  Unit  percent [%]  Available dimentions  This indicator is calculated from the data obtained in the survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals  Technicians and associate professionals  Clerical support workers  Service and sales workers  Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers  Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers  Plant and machine operators and assemblers  Elementary occupations  Data every two years; since 2010	Name of the indicator	5.1.c Proportion of women in managerial positions
The indicator presents the share of women in the total number of persons employed in managerial positions.  Employed persons are defined as the persons who have worked in the surveyed units for the whole October of the given year, full- or part-time as established for the given enterprise or position.  Unit percent [%]  Available dimentions  This indicator is calculated from the data obtained in the survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are; people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals  Technicians and associate professionals  Clerical support workers Service and sales workers Service and sales workers Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers Craft and related trade workers Plant and machine operators and assemblers Elementary occupations  Data source  Data availability  Data every two years; since 2010	Sustainable Development Goal	Goal 5. Gender equality
Definition  Employed persons are defined as the persons who have worked in the surveyed units for the whole October of the given year, full- or part-time as established for the given enterprise or position.  Unit percent [%]  Available dimentions  This indicator is calculated from the data obtained in the survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts, moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals Clerical support workers Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers Plant and machine operators and assemblers Elementary occupations  Data source  Data availability  Data every two years; since 2010	Priority	More complete fulfillment of the principle of women and men's equality
Available dimentions  total  This indicator is calculated from the data obtained in the survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals  Technicians and associate professionals  Clerical support workers  Service and sales workers  Service and sales workers  Service and sales workers  Plant and machine operators and assemblers  Elementary occupations  Data source  Data availability  Data every two years; since 2010	Definition	managerial positions.  Employed persons are defined as the persons who have worked in the surveyed units for the whole October of the given year, full- or part-time as established for the given
This indicator is calculated from the data obtained in the survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals  Technicians and associate professionals  Clerical support workers  Service and sales workers  Service and sales workers  Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers  Craft and related trade workers  Plant and machine operators and assemblers  Elementary occupations  Data source  Data availability  Data every two years; since 2010	Unit	percent [%]
wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals Technicians and associate professionals Clerical support workers Service and sales workers Service and sales workers Technicant rade workers Plant and machine operators and assemblers Elementary occupations  Data source  Data availability  Data every two years; since 2010	Available dimentions	total
Data source Statistics Poland  Data availability Data every two years; since 2010	Methodological explanations	wages and salaries by occupations.  The survey on the structure of wages and salaries by occupations is a survey carried out with biennial frequency. It covers entities of national economy with the number of the employed persons exceeding 9 persons.  The data cover full- and part-time employees who worked in the surveyed units whole month of October.  The survey does not include: apprentices, persons engaged in outwork (home-workers), students maintaining vacation or diploma practices, members of workers groups organized by other units and appointed to work in the reporting units, e.g. soldiers, labour corps members, convicts; moreover, excluded are: people on maternity or child-care leaves and people appointed to full-time schools or PhD studies, etc., persons employed in intervention and public works, persons on sick leaves.  The data on proportion of women in managerial positions pertain to women employed in one of the "major" occupational groups (according to "Classification of occupations and specialities" – ISCO-08), i.e. the group of managers (.  The other "major" occupational groups are:  Professionals  Technicians and associate professionals  Clerical support workers  Service and sales workers  Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers  Skilled agricultural, forestry and fishery workers  Craft and related trade workers  Plant and machine operators and assemblers
	Data source
Notes	Data availability	Data every two years; since 2010
	Notes

Last update: 10-05-2022, 11:55